Success Secrets

"We operate a fair and transparent pricing policy, meaning that you do not receive a final bill which includes 'hidden extras', parts or lubricants or additional supplied or fitted components which were not either requested or detailed in our initial estimate. We offer honest appraisals and make recommendations which you are free to then act upon or not. We do this because we take our work seriously and understand fully the ramifications of driving a vehicle which may not be 100 per cent road-worthy. We also have a moral duty to care for our customers. Besides, we have a reputation to maintain — as a fair, competitively priced and customer friendly company."

"Like any market these days, the automotive trade is a competitive place to be. At Loong Wah Motors Group Ltd, our passion for delivering the best customer service and value for money is matched only by our passion for cars. We always promote a 'can do' attitude," Tony says. ■
